

Materials Diversion Services for Film and TV

strikes / asset purges / storage clear outs / residual materials diversion

EcoSet helps productions reduce their environmental impact by maximizing the useful life of goods and materials and contributing to a circular economy.

We offer a range of service options that align with a studio's sustainability initiatives. By working with us, your project keeps useful materials out of a landfill while creating a net positive result through reuse strategies that benefit local communities. We prioritize donating valued items to 501(c)3 organizations, and recirculating all types of reusable resources through our Materials Oasis reuse center.

When you've done your best, we'll do the rest.

After a show's assets have been culled for storage, reuse and donation, we manage everything that remains.

We will engage quickly and affordably to help you avoid dumpsters, taking over the final donation process for residual and challenging items. We are flexible with shifting timelines and scope of work.

Productivity and Cost Benefits

- ✓ Convenient one-stop shop to manage all hard to recycle or non recyclable items
- ✓ Avoid dumpsters and labor for final disposal
- ✓ Reduce amount of time researching and coordinating waste diversion process
- ✓ Flexible strike options to complete full scope on tight deadlines or receive materials gradually as drop offs
- ✓ Reduce storage billing costs through third party vendors with fast storage clear outs

Environmental Benefits

- ✓ Minimize volume of waste sent to landfill in alignment with Zero Waste goals
- ✓ Reduce carbon footprint of waste disposal process by prioritizing reuse
- ✓ Maximize the useful life of creative assets and production materials through donation and repurposing
- ✓ Cardboard, packing materials, construction waste, scrap metal, hard and soft plastics, foam, paint and electronic waste are recycled as part of our standard process
